Dedication

To Wendel H. Baker, who came to visit eleven years ago and since that time has served the college in many capacities, the class of 1954 affectionately dedicates the Echo in tribute to his untiring service to Monticello.

His unselfish devotion to exacting duties is adequate testimony of his interest in making the actual Monticello the one we each hold in our hearts. With capable hands, he has served us well.

We hope that this book will remain as a token of our appreciation for the effort and energy he has so unselfishly offered.

Ideals

With hearts aware of beauty, loyalty and dignity, minds ever striving for wisdom and democracy, and willing hands to offer service and friendship to all, the seven girls pictured on the following pages have been chosen from the class of '54 by vote of their classmates to represent these seven ideals of Monticello.

Outstanding members of their class in countless ways, these girls were chosen to personify the ideal which is most typical of their personality.

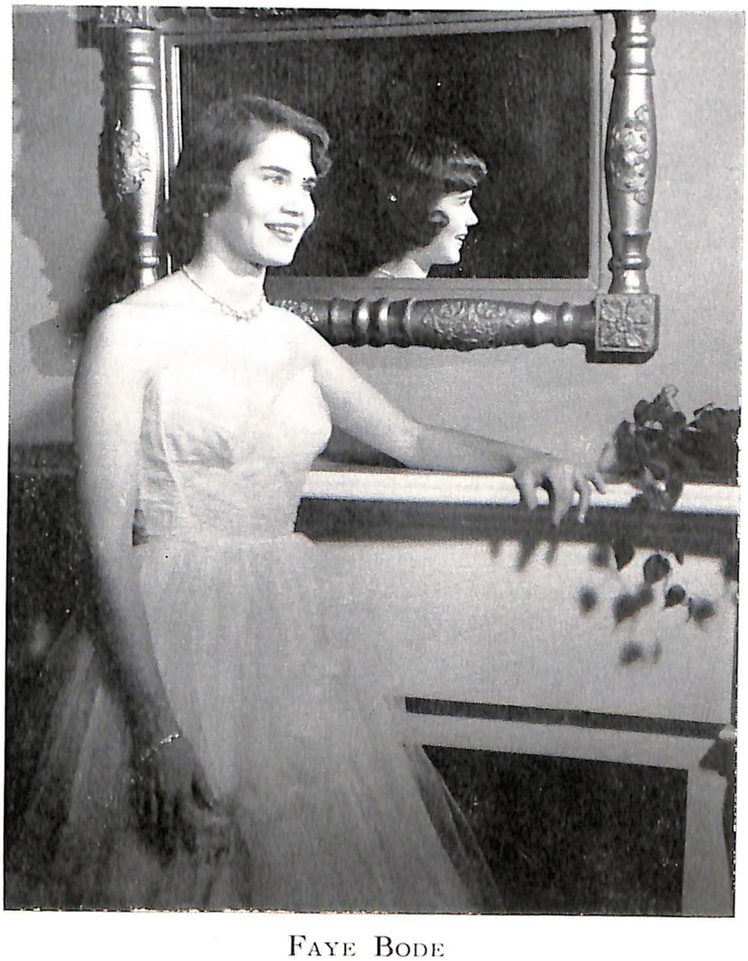
DODIE RAMSEY

Wisdom . . .

As the Monticello girl grows in academic stature, she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge and understanding.

Friendship . . .

Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there is dignity, loyalty, service, democracy, beauty, and never-failing consideration.



FAYE BODE

DIANE KLEPPER

Democracy . . .

The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

Loyalty . . .

One of the most important of the Monticello Ideals is loyalty to the college, one's friends, one's family, and one's beliefs. This deep-seated emotion will grow through understanding, respect, and love.

NANCY GEORGE

ANNE LAMONT

Service . . .

Each of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello girl considers it not only a privilege but a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

Beauty . . .

Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it, if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand, and one's mind to remember.

JACQUIE DUMBAULD

GAIL MATZEN

Dignity . . .

This is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual, and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

Faculty

RUSSELL T. SHARPE

Russell T. Sharpe, the eighth President of Monticello, is no longer a new face, but an old friend to many of the students and faculty.

A native of East Greenwich, Rhode Island, Mr. Sharpe graduated from Harvard, where he majored in English, in 1928. Later, after a year of European travel, he returned to Harvard in an administrative capacity until he was called into military service. He was promoted to the rank of colonel and awarded the Legion of Merit in 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe came to Monticello from San Francisco, California, where he was Administrative Vice-President of Golden Gate College.

Marshall Acker, Edmund Morgenstern, Eben Rodgers, chairman; M. Ryrie Milnor, D. Howard Doane.

Mrs. Henry Warten, Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, Mrs. R. Chester Walling, Mrs. George Sparks Milnor, Mrs. William Wood Parsons.

Board of Trustees

The capable men and women of our Board of Trustees have as their responsibility the general administration of Monticello College.

The time and energy of this efficient group are freely given every year toward the handling of finances and the supervision of many college matters.

Eben Rodgers, as chairman, heads the board of which the college president is automatically a member ex-officio. Trustees not pictured include Mrs. John Raeburn Green, Fred Kuehne, Jr., Leslie M. Lyon, Karl K. Hoagland, and Russell T. Sharpe.

MARY LAING SWIFT
Academic Dean
Director of Preparatory School
A.B., Vassar College
M. A., Columbia University

The position of Academic Dean encompasses many responsibilities most of which are directly concerned with the students and their problems. In this capacity, Miss Swift is a willing listener and a helpful adviser.

She supervises the curriculum and examinations and acts as chairman of the Advising Committee. Despite her busy schedule, Miss Swift also finds time to serve as Director of the Preparatory School.

WENDEL H. BAKER
Director of Office of Development
Director of Public Relations
Director of Admissions
Business Manager
A.B., University of Missouri

Mr. Baker has the important jobs of Director of Admissions, Public Relations, Business Manager, and Director of Office Development.

He supervises the admissions office, the office of Public Information, and the Alumnae office. As the Business Manager, he is the treasurer of the College under the Executive council for the Board of Trustees.

ERMINA E. BUSCH
Registrar
A.B., University of Illinois

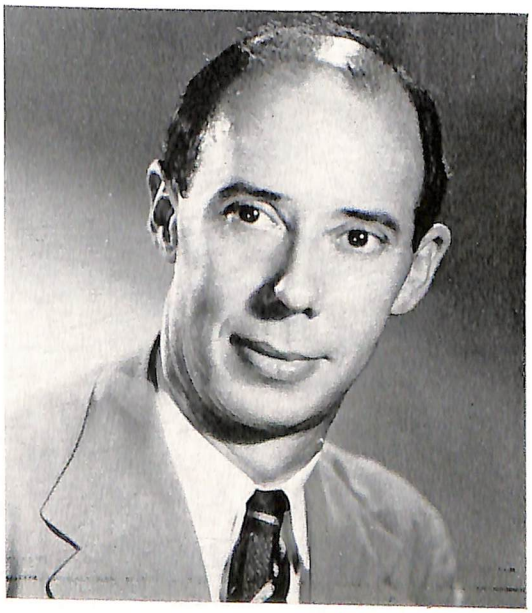
Class and exam schedules are only a part of the duties of Miss Busch, Monticello's registrar and statistician. She keeps academic and registration records for each student, records grades, prepares transcripts, and aids those planning to transfer to senior colleges.

She also serves as personal adviser to a group of students.

FRANK MARTIN TAYLOR
Associate Director of Admissions
St. Aloysius College
London University, England

The important task of contacting prospective students and answering their questions about Monticello rests in the hands of Mr. Taylor, and a corps of admissions counselors.

Mr. Taylor has taken over the direction of all admission counselor field work, and the office routine of admitting students.



MRS. ERNEST R. DUREE
Director of Residence and Social Program
B.A., University of Nebraska

The many social activities throughout the school year are the prime responsibility of Mrs. Duree, who serves in the capacity of Social Director.

Dances, teas, cabin parties, movies, and trips to St. Louis are scheduled under her guidance. In addition to these activities, Mrs. Duree serves as adviser to the junior class and social committee chairmen.

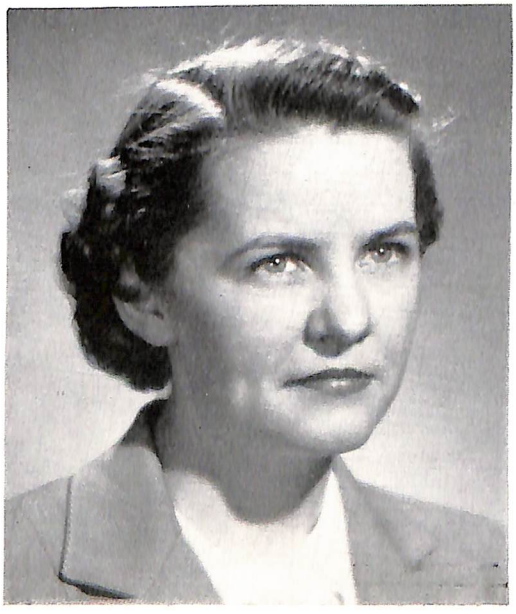
MRS. W. VLADIMIR ROUSSEFF
Librarian

Mrs. Rousseff, as head of the library staff, has the time-consuming responsibility of maintaining order on the library shelves and quiet at the library tables.

She is always available for aid in finding reference material in books as well as in the complete collection of periodicals, pamphlets, and other current reading material.

MRS. VIRGINIA B. WERWATH
Director of Public Information

Mrs. Werwath as Director of Public Information has many jobs. She is in charge of the promotional material, news releases, and school bulletins. It is her responsibility to keep the public informed on the activities at Monticello.



JOSEPH A. L. RUSSO
Adviser to Student Publications
A.B., Harvard College

As technical adviser of student publications, Mr. Russo assists the staffs of the college paper, the Times, and the year book, the Echo. Photographs in these publications as well as in all promotional material are taken by him.

Throughout the year, his photographs of students, their activities, the campus grounds, and college buildings preserve memories of life at Monticello.

LABORING

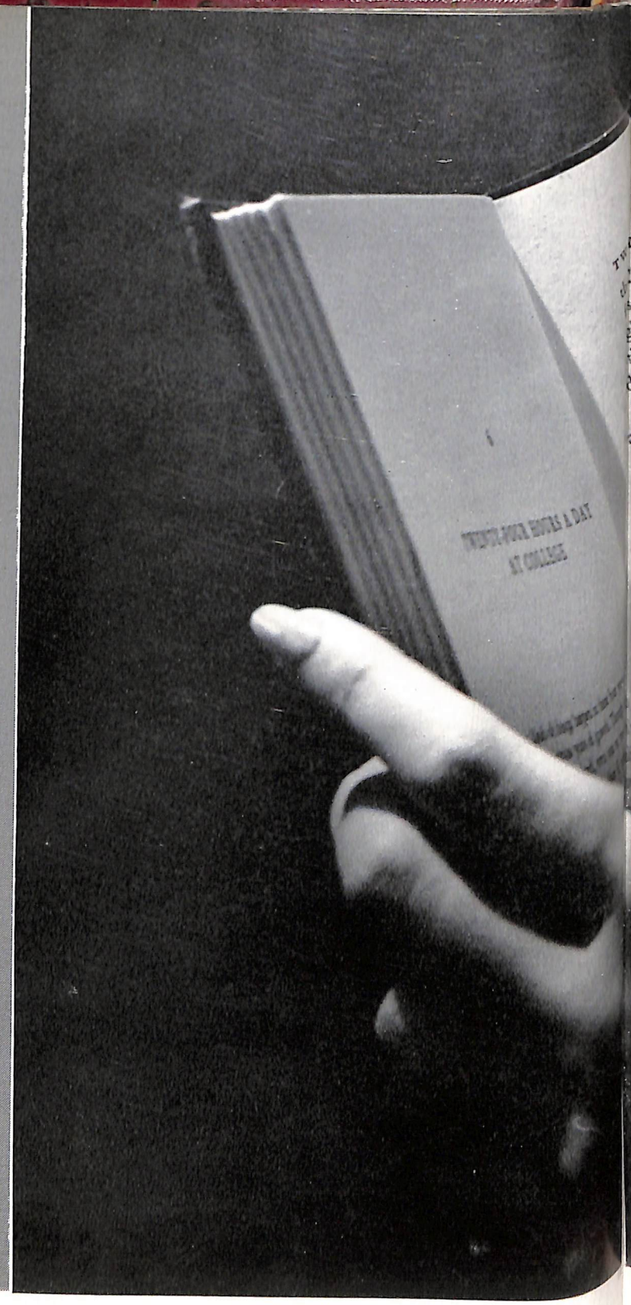
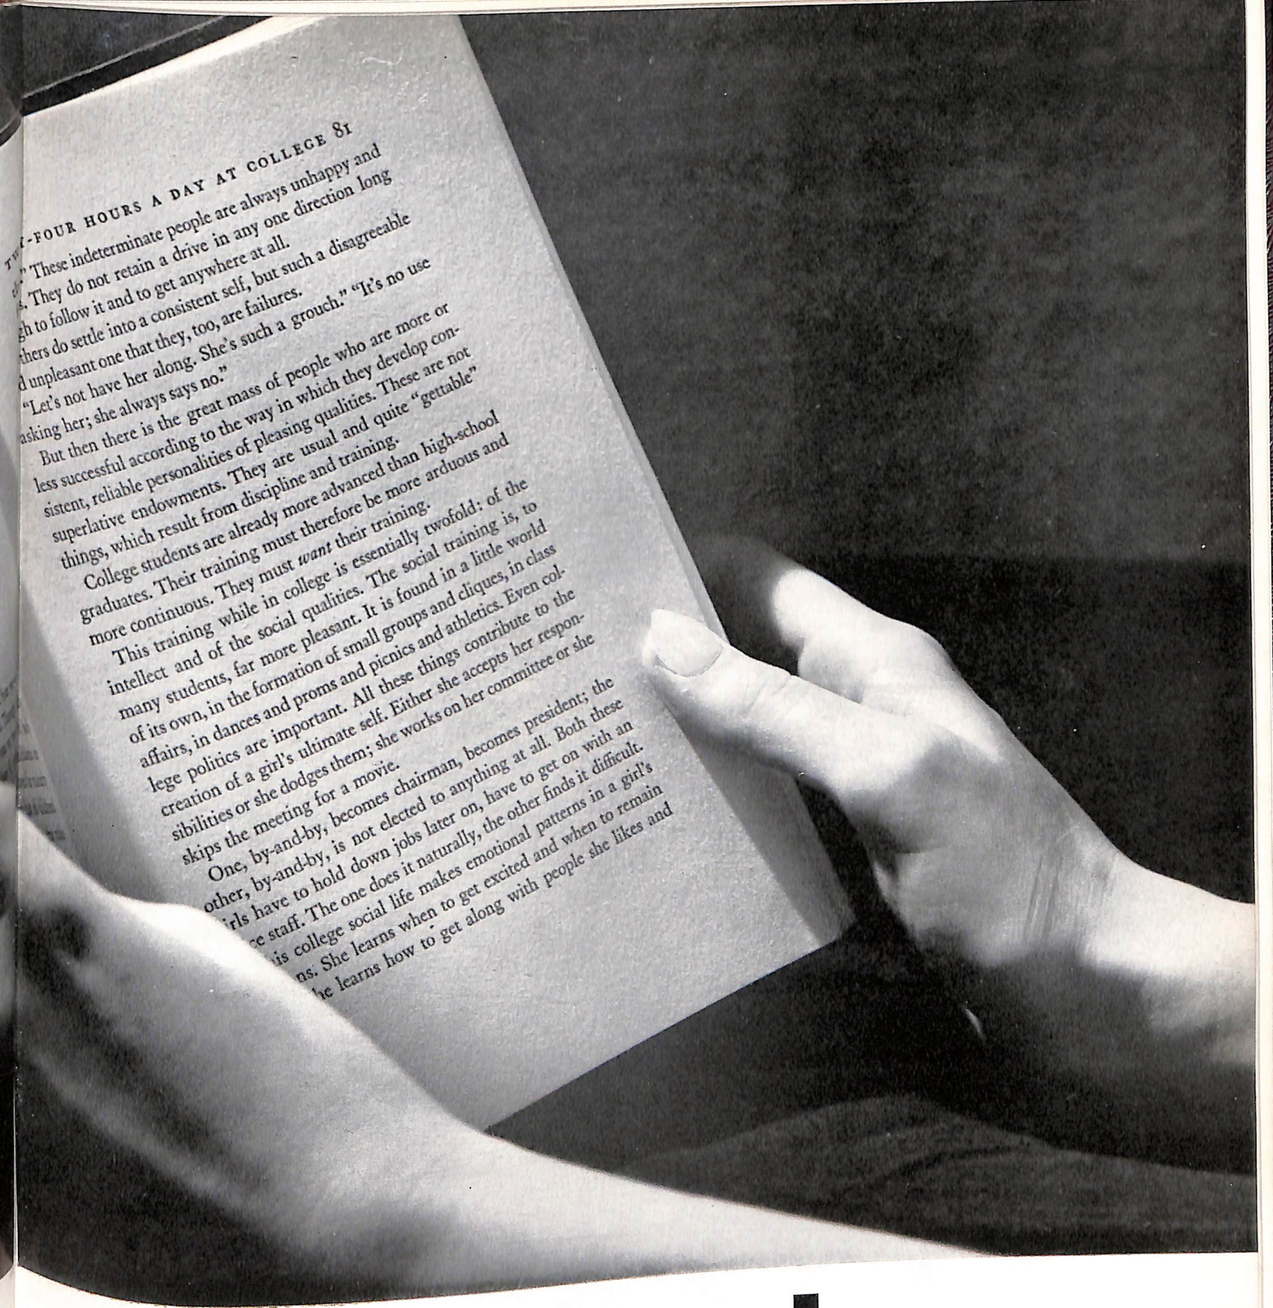
COMMON GOALS,

TO DISCOVER

SECRETS OF WISDOM





" These indeterminate people are always unhappy and . They do not retain a drive in any one direction long gh to follow it and to get anywhere at all.
thers do settle into a consistent self, but such a disagreeable d unpleasant one that they, too, are failures.
"Let's not have her along. She's such a grouch." "It's no use asking her; she always says no."
But then there is the great mass of people who are more or less successful according to the way in which they develop consistent, reliable personalities of pleasing qualities. These are not superlative endowments. They are usual and quite "getable" things, which result from discipline and training.
College students are already more advanced than high-school graduates. Their training must therefore be more arduous and more continuous. They must want their training.
This training while in college is essentially twofold: of the intellect and of the social qualities. The social training is, to many students, far more pleasant. It is found in a little world of its own, in the formation of small groups and cliques, in class affairs, in dances and proms and picnics and athletics. Even college politics are important. All these things contribute to the creation of a girl's ultimate self. Either she accepts her responsibilities or she dodges them; she works on her committee or she skips the meeting for a movie.
One, by-and-by, becomes chairman, becomes president; the other, by-and-by, is not elected to anything at all. Both these irls have to hold down jobs later on, have to get on with an e staff. The one does it naturally, the other finds it difficult.
is college social life makes emotional patterns in a girl's ns. She learns when to get excited and when to remain he learns how to get along with people she likes and Organizations

Cosner, Lamont, Andeel, Booth, Klepper, Bode, Gordon, Stouder, Gibbs, Ainsworth, Mills, C. Cook.

Schweikert, vice-president; Matzen, president; Williams, secretary; Barnsback, treasurer.

Student Council

The Student Council voices the opinions of the students regarding the inevitable problems of school life. Serving as the executive group of the Monticello student body, it welcomes the expression of ideas and suggestions, then brings them to the administration.

The four major officers are chosen by the entire student body. To insure a junior voice in school matters, the secretary, Maren Larsen, and treasurer, Raquel Solis, were elected and took office in their junior year. Later in the year a new president and vice-president were elected to replace the senior officers, Gail Matzen and Shirley Schweikert.

The remaining members of the Council comprise the Council board which consists of the heads of major organizations including class presidents, house chairmen, M.C.A. and M.A.A. presidents, sponsor chairman, Social Chairmen and the two editors of student publications.

President Russell T. Sharpe serves the groups in the capacity of adviser.

Stouder, editor-in-chief; Cosner, production; Fretwell, literary; Harbottle, art; Ramsey, business; Nottingham, Preps.

Echo Staff

The editor-in-chief, Jane Stouder, correlates the work of the art and literary editors and the business, production and Prep managers to produce this tangible record of the unforgettable events and accomplishments of the past year at Monticello.

More than an accumulation of captions and pictures, the Echo is a supplement to the special memories each student finds meaningful.

Gungoll, Copy Editor; Thro, Editorial Editor; Gordon, Editor-in-chief; Dumbauld, Sports Editor; Bryant, News Editor; Franks, News Editor.

Times

To keep abreast of the "Times" is an enjoyable occupation with Ginny Gordon, editor-in-chief, and her capable staff recording the current events and activities at Monti. Each editor manages her special field and responsibility and interest to produce a well-rounded and diversified account of recent student activities and prevailing ideas throughout the year.

Dunleavy, Smith, Andeel, Hoover, Schweikert,
Strang, Jones, Boesel, Aylard, Clift, Cosner.

House Council

This year, the two house councils combined to form a joint governing body to serve both Baldwin and Caldwell more efficiently. The president of Baldwin, Adele Cosner, the president of Caldwell, Beverly Andeel, the proctors and fire chairman all serve on the council which determines house policies, alters and improves existing regulations, and enforces the necessary rules.

Gungoll, Cosner, Barnsback, Cook, C., Thro, Schweikert, Palmer, Brueggeman, Schultze, Rupe, Williams, Klepper, Smith, Harris.

Blevins, Ramsey, President; Strang, George.

Phi Theta Kappa

The Eta Psi chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary scholastic society for junior colleges, is open to all students who excel in their academic work.

The purposes of this group are to develop character and leadership and to promote the ideal of scholarship.

Monticello Christian Association

Hoover, Strang, Ramsey, Ronan.

Tennis Club

The tennis club is an organized group of tennis enthusiasts, who are interested in the fun of the game, as well as improving their technique. Tournaments are held during the tennis seasons within the club, and members represent Monticello as the play days with other colleges. An annual school tournament is sponsored by the tennis club, and trophies are awarded to the winners.

Anne Lamont leads this organization in the capacity of its president.

Teal, Moore, Preston, Anderson, Cline, Bolin.
Barnsback, Jennings, Aylard, Dunleavy.
Dumbauld, president; Wheeler, Keahey, Waddell, Herrmann.

Marlin Club

The Marlin Club is an organization that is active throughout the entire year. An important event of each year is the water pageant of synchronized swimming. The work necessary for a successful pageant is well rewarded by the beautiful production.

Hoover, vice-president; Howell, president; Geisler, treasurer; Mattis, secretary; Ellsworth, Preston, Peters, Talbot, Waddell, Neill, Clift, Moore, Solis.
Wheeler, Grossman, Wittenkamp, Boesel.

Hobby Horse

Every year Hobby Horse holds two or three try outs. One in the fall and the spring; and if possible one during the winter season.

Those who try out must take a written test and must ride to show their ability in handling a horse. Much is based on general attitude and sportsmanship.

During the year Hobby Horse participates in such activities as the overnight field trip to places in order to see outstanding stables and horses, going to some of the horse shows in St. Louis; and seeing movies shown in the club meetings.

Hobby Horse produces the horse show in the spring. Every member participates in the show in some way or another whether she rides or not.

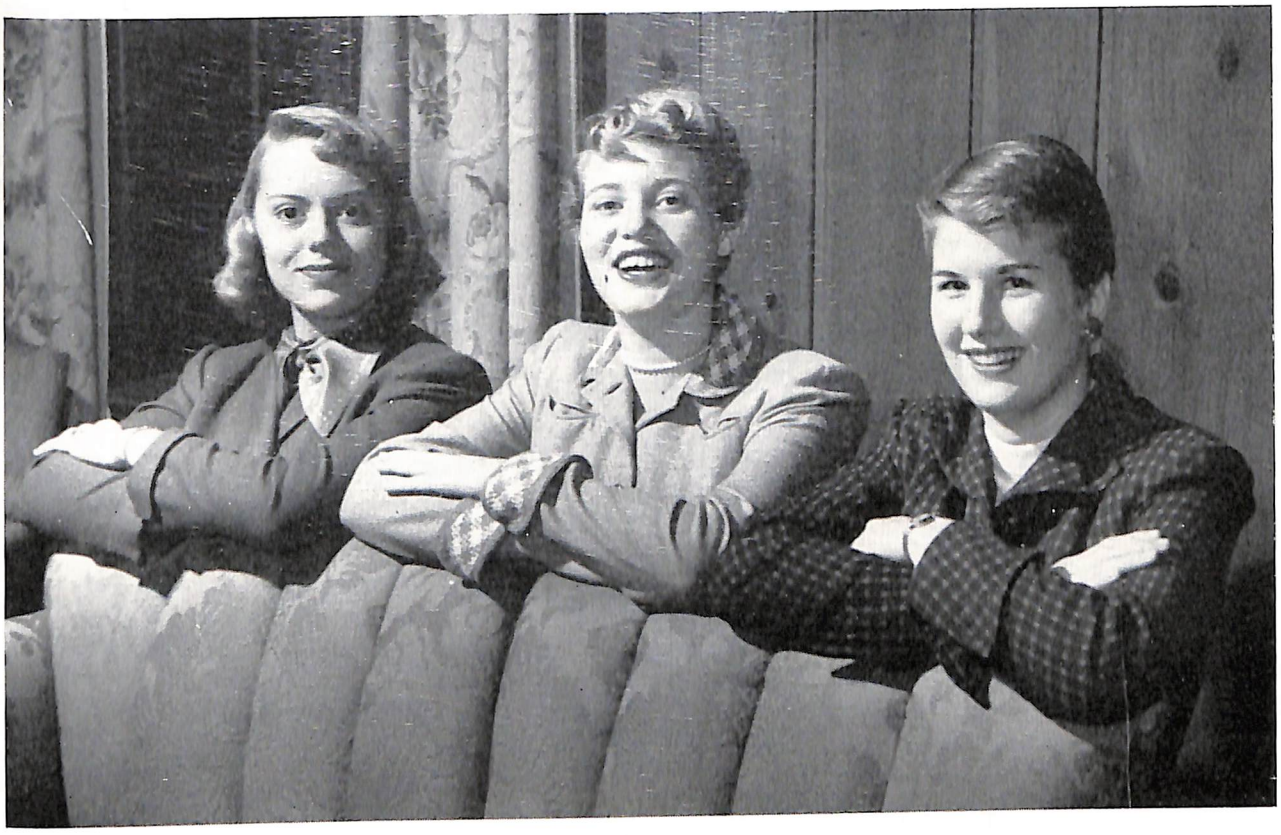
Preparatory Student Council

The council consists of 12 members, including the presidents of the junior and senior classes, three proctors, three social chairmen, and four elected council officers. The Student Council is the governing body of the prep school.

This group works in cooperation with the faculty and administration to the advantage of every girl and for the general betterment of the preparatory school.

The council meets twice monthly under the guidance of the Academic Dean, Miss Mary Laing Swift.



Wells, Marshall, Mapes

Preparatory Social Committee

Planning the special needs of the preparatory students is the preparatory Social Committee under the management of Margo Mapes, Mary Marshall, Alice Wells, and under the direction of Miss Meyers. This committee organizes weekend entertainment, committees for dances, and has charge of the dining room hostessing program.

Special events at Haskell House this year included the Open House for All, Valentine Dance, and the Spring Formal held at Pere Marquette.

Preparatory Drama Club

The Preparatory Drama Club was organized two years ago. Its purpose is to acquaint students who are interested with speech and drama. They recently staged a three-act play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Other activities of the group have included the study of make-up and lighting.

Meitus, Rousseff, Oliver, Gresham, Pitman, Fishel, Nottingham, President

Preparatory Science Club

The preparatory school science club was reorganized last year. The newly elected officers were Donna Nottingham, president, Anna Oliver, secretary, Gail Gresham, treasurer, and Gail Goldenberg, program chairman.

They have had many interesting meetings under the direction of Miss Lucretia Cressey including some demonstrations and a field trip. This Christmas, for the second consecutive year, the members of the Science Club produced a spectacular chemical Christmas tree.

you're in for a surprise

. . . a very pleasant one, too, when you shop at Lytton's. All the wonderful fashions that whet your appetite in the magazines are part of the Lytton scenery. The surprise comes in with their tiny prices . . . neatly scaled to school-going budgets. Stop by and pay us a visit . . you'll find it worthwhile!
